Mobilizing for Action

To Create

Peace with Justice

Imagine a World . . .

A world where conflict is resolved through nonviolent means, and justice, equity and compassion describe human relations.

A world where American taxpayers invest billions of dollars into education, health care and the environment, instead of occupation and weapons of war.

A world where creative, interdependent, sustainable communities are the norm . . . and war is a memory.

That world is possible.

Join us.

Together we can act for peace.
